As travel restrictions start to lift and we begin to stretch our legs after a two-year intermission, a new study into travel trends predicts that 2022 is going to be the year for Bucket List Holidays.

In the same way 2021 was the year for domestic travel, a chance to explore locally and discover regional treasures, this year expects travellers to splurge out and plan those once in a lifetime holiday. A niche market that Barcelona Cruise Port caters to perfectly.

Barcelona has consistently been one of the top travel destinations that Europe, not just Spain, has to offer and last year Barcelona secured a top position as one of the prettiest and most popular cities in Europe.

*2022 promises
to be a year
where yearning
tourists get to dust off their
long bucket-
lists which have been collecting
ideas for almost two years now*

According to The World's Best Cities, a study prepared each year by the American consultancy Resonance, the Mediterranean metropolis sits at ninth place in the prestigious ranking of the best cities in the world. This ranking assesses the global brand of one hundred cities with more than one million inhabitants, considering various indicators and based on statistical figures and the opinions of residents and visitors.

Some world-famous landmarks need no introduction: Gaudí's La Sagrada Família, the beach at Barceloneta's front and FCB's Camp Nou. But now the hidden gems are earning their spot on the city's star-studded resume like the panoramic views at Carmel' Bunkers and alternative food markets in San Antoni and Santa Caterina.

Cruising offers a sample platter of destinations for guests to enjoy on their itinerary and a fuss free travel style meaning it's no surprise it's also a common bucket list must-have.

Barcelona Cruise Port appeals to both aspects of this "Life List" destination, as cruise routes for 2022 have Barcelona headlining their Mediterranean itineraries. We are looking forward to our return to activity with over 500 calls scheduled this year.

Now, with our renovation plans to update our Terminal South well under way, our smaller cruise ships can expect to find the same modern model we have over on the Adosado Wharf.

We are proud to be part of the fabric that makes our city such a popular cruise destination and look forward to helping guests tick Barcelona off their Bucket List!
